LA HABRA MAYOR IN RUM COURT

May Wheat Price Passes War Top

MAD SCENES ENACTED AS NEW LEVEL IS TOUCHED

CHICAGO, Jan. 28.—May wheat finally reached the long prophesied $2.00 mark at the board of trade opening this morning, the highest price at which it has sold since the war. Wild scenes were enacted in the grain pits as May wheat broke through to the new record. At noon May wheat sold at $2.05, a new high.

Brokers Rip Collars, Coats and Gesticulate Wildly In Grain Pits

Coats and collars were ripped into shreds as scores of men lunged at each other in the grain pits, gesticulating frantically with their hands and arms as they signalled for purchases and sales.

Unexpectedly Heavy Demands From Abroad Lead to Spirited Trading

Reports that Russia, Bulgaria, Rumania and other continental countries were coming into the market with heavy buying orders threw the pit into wild disorder. Some of these countries normally export part of their grain. Added to this was a report that the Canadian wheat crop would be 8,000,000 bushels less than previously estimated.

PRICES BREAK RECORD IN MINNEAPOLIS

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Jan. 28.—May wheat prices broke all records on the Minneapolis chamber of commerce today when a five cent rise put the market up to $1.98 1/2.

SENSATIONAL RAISE SEEN IN WHEAT

Another sensational advance in wheat prices was recorded on the Winnipeg grain exchange today. May futures advanced to $2.16 1/2.

Threatened to Cut Her Heart Out, Wife Says

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Jan. 28.—"He grabbed a knife and threatened to cut my heart out. He was so emotional."

Thus Helen Cardiff Scher, who played the role of one of the "apples" in the movie "Forbidden Fruit," explained why she wants a divorce from her artist husband, Solomon A. Scher, formerly of the San Francisco Symphony orchestra.

"He played the villain," said Helen. "and after he got through some soulful bit, he grabbed a knife and threatened to cut my heart out. He was so emotional."

Mrs. Scher charged cruelty in her petition. She said Scher was jealous of her beauty and of her mere glance at another male. They were married February 12, 1924, in New York after a romance that began in Hollywood.

Jinx For the Jingoist

SAN FRANCISCO is greeting the visiting Japanese training fleet with the utmost hospitality and friendliness. Call it a "gesture" if you like—but it is of such gestures that the amenities of civilized intercourse are composed. Japan did even better, when the American fleet called during the famous Roosevelt tour around the world.

Those things help always—and particularly now, when there are questions between the two peoples, centering precisely in San Francisco, on which they have not agreed. This is a visible demonstration of what was already evident to all men of good will—that differences of opinion on national policies need not affect the friendship of the peoples.

Demagogues on both sides of the Pacific notwithstanding, there is no question between America and Japan which is not capable of adjustment by friendly conference. All that is needed is good will. Fundamentally, that good will exists. These amenities make it pleasantly visible.

New Light In Asia

ELECTRIC lights are about to be introduced in place of the butter lamps of the thousand-roamed lamasaries of the Lhasa of the Tibetan. Thus western light penetrates an age-old eastern shadow.

But not far. Electric lights are the first "modern improvement" everywhere. They take little trouble to install, and no brains to use.

A generator, a wire, a bulb and a button, and it is done. The installers must be experts, but there need be few of them. The rest need only to learn to push the button.

A Thibetan can learn that—or a Senegambian, or a chimpanzee. Honestly, do you know much more about electricity than the chimpanzee? The real difficulties of the interpenetration of one culture by another come in those things in which all the people have to get a new idea. That usually has to wait for a new generation to grow up, even among our "enlightened" solves.

MERCURY IN NORTH-WEST IS SOARING

Weather Moderating After 48 Hours Extreme Cold With Much Suffering

THE WEATHER was moderating in the middle and north-west following 48 hours of cold. Northwestern states experienced a rise of 40 degrees in 24 hours. Generally fair weather prevailed in the Chicago forecast area.

Intense suffering, crippled train service and broken wire communication followed in the coldest weather for the winter in Ohio.

One death was reported from Cincinnati as a result of the cold and in other cities authorities were overburdened for fuel, food and clothing. Rural traffic was at a standstill as a result of drifting snow.

Perry County's low temperature records for 50 years were broken when the mercury dropped to 24 below zero at New Lexington.

At Canfield, in Muskingum county, thermometers registered 29 below zero.

TWO MEN FREEZE TO DEATH IN OHIO

CLEVELAND, Jan. 28.—Two men were frozen to death today in the snow-covered woods. The dead: Harry Bent, 53, and Larry Anderson, 50.

CHILD LABOR ACT APPEARS DEFEATED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—The child labor amendment to the constitution has virtually been defeated.

Action of legislatures in Oklahoma, Kansas, Ohio, North Dakota, and Washington, rejecting the amendment, makes it impossible to obtain the required ratification of three-fourths of the 48 states.

Several states of the way was left open for bills which would submit endorsement to the people in a referendum next year, thus leaving a loophole to be offset this, United Press dispatches show sentiment in states that have not yet acted on the amendment, is strongly opposed.

The following states have refused through action of one or both houses of their legislatures to ratify the child labor amendment: Washington, Texas, South Dakota, North Dakota, North Carolina, Ohio, Oklahoma, North Carolina, Louisiana, Kansas and Georgia.

ARIZONA ADOPTS PROPOSED LAW

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 28.—The child labor constitutional amendment today was unanimously ratified by the senate of the Arizona legislature. The measure had previously been adopted in the lower house.

SUN YAT SEN IS REPORTED ALIVE

PEKIN, Jan. 29.—(Thursday)—Sun Yat Sen, erroneously reported dead, was alive at midnight, according to bulletins issued today by responsible German and American physicians.

Sun Yat Sen, former Canton governor, who was operated upon for cancer of the liver, was reported dead in dispatches carried by news associations other than the United Press. An unofficial Japanese agency dispatch to Shanghai was the source of the inaccurate reports.

Sense of Smell Work $75,000, Court Decides

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Damages of $75,000 against the city were awarded by a jury in the Bronx supreme court to Ruth Knoeller, 27 years old, of Brooklyn, for injuries suffered in an automobile accident Feb. 15, 1924, that morning the plaintiff was driving with three other persons, all of whom were killed in the accident, in the Bronx and dropped forty feet from the unguarded end of a street into Bronx park. The jury deliberated less than fifteen minutes before bringing in their verdict to Justice Francis B. Delehanty. Miss Knoeller has lost her sense of smell as the result of the accident, she testified, and her sense of taste is impaired.

Search Fails To Reveal Lost Pianist

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Less alarm was felt today for the safety of Ethel Leginska, missing pianist. Uncertainty as to her whereabouts of the artist existed for no one with authority to speak would come forward and say where Leginska was.

Miss Lucille Oliver, friend and pupil of the pianist, insisted she had not heard from Leginska and still knew nothing of the latter's whereabouts.

While Leginska was reported to be in the Morning-side avenue home of Mme. Tagliore, a friend, this was denied by the latter as well as by Miss Oliver.

The police search has not been officially abandoned.

CALIFORNIANS TO GET HUGE TAX REFUND

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—The treasury department today prepared to repay $3,000,000 in estate taxes collected illegally from Californians under the revenue laws which conflict with the old Spanish laws of that state.

At the same time the department and leaders of California interests began preparations for a battle to the supreme court over $80,000,000 more collected in that state by the internal revenue collector under another section of the tax law which conflicts with the basic California law. The suit will involve between $40,000,000 and $50,000,000 annually in future years.

Under the California code, based on Spanish law, man and wife share equally in property and the attorney general's official opinion, just made public, holds that estate taxes cannot be levied against more than one-half of the estate when the husband dies and the property goes to the widow.

Say Farm Measure Can't Be Enacted

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—President Coolidge was advised today by Chairman Snell of the house rules committee that the suggestions of the president's agricultural commission for a new "federal cooperative marketing board" to supervise farm commodity distribution problems stands practically no chance of being enacted in the remaining thirty legislative days of this congress.

Twenty days will be taken up with calendar bills and congressmen advocating a dozen important and several hundred minor measures are clamoring for the rest of the time, Snell told the president.

Reef, Not Island, Sinks Into Sea

LISBON, Jan. 28.—From additional meager dispatches received here, it appears that it was the reef at Port Alexander and not the town nor the entire island which was submerged in a recent tidal wave. Thousands of inhabitants disappeared into the sea, and an estimate of the loss of life remains unobtainable.

Threw Cat at Her; She Gets Divorce

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 28.—Mrs. Myrtle Elliott secured a divorce from her husband, Cale Elliott, after charging him with frequently hurling the family cat in her face, threatening to kill her, calling her a dumb-bell and declaring that she was "too fat even to cook."

Regarding the possibility of such an announcement by God, we have five important precedents. The time of the flood was definitely announced to Noah in advance. The destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah was preceded by a definite call for the escape of Lot and his family. The deliverance of Israel from Egypt, Jonah's message to Nineveh and the first advent of Christ were all associated with definite time statements.

The coming of Christ is a matter of common faith among many Christians. In view of the above precedents, why should this more important event be brought upon the people unannounced?

We do not believe, as do our former associates, that every individual on earth must hear and definitely decide his relationship to their teaching before Christ comes. We believe this teaching is deferring the coming of Christ and belittling the result of God's work on earth.

As reformers, we view this delay with alarm, for we believe the crisis of the world is upon us. Hence our willingness to give others the benefit of that which appeals to us as a possible call from God to the final preparation. This consists of calmly preparing for that hour of sincere heart-searching and mutual encouragement.

This faith represents not an antagonistic move, but instead an honest conviction of earnest people.

RETURN OF CHRIST TO EARTH IS SET BY SAN DIEGO PROPHETESS FOR FEBRUARY 6

BY DR. B. E. FULLMER (Written for the United Press)
HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 28.—The date for the return of Christ, February 6, 1925, was named, professedly by revelation, by Mrs. Margaret W. Rowen, of San Diego, whose personal experiences were such as bore evidence of a supernatural gift and inspired the confidence of a number of members of the Seventh Day Adventist church.

Those of us who believe with Mrs. Rowen have been censured and excommunicated by the majority of the denomination, and we are no longer members of it, although we still adhere to the teachings of that organization. That Mrs. Rowen has periods of

WHEELER TO FIGURE IN NEW COUNT

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 28.—Attorney General Stone today told the senate judiciary committee that his new proceedings against Senator Burton K. Wheeler were based upon new evidence, indicating an effort to defraud the United States of its public land.

Stone answered a senatorial charge that he was "pestering" Wheeler for political reasons. The testimony was given in open session of the committee considering Stone's nomination to the supreme court.

At the same time, federal authorities at the District of Columbia courthouse swore in a special grand jury to hear the new charges against Wheeler at a session starting Monday.

DECLARES STONE LOST HIM FORTUNE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—A broken old Indian fighter and prospector today charged Harland Fiske Stone, attorney general of the United States of causing him to lose a fortune of $8,000,000 through taking advantage of a 100-year-old Delaware statute which has since been revoked.

Colonel "Al" Owenby, 71, who was guide to Grand Duke Alexis when he crossed the plains of the Wild West in the late 70's thus explained in an exclusive interview his reason for fighting Stone's promotion to the supreme court.

It is based on Stone's conduct of a suit of the late J. P. Morgan's heirs against him years ago, representations of which are opening a breach between President Coolidge and the senate and blocking the president's nomination of Stone.

"I am practically penniless as the result of jockeying of Stone, which knocked my suit out of court," the old man said as he sat in his room in a Washington hotel, hoping a little—that he might be called again by the senate judiciary committee which is considering Stone's nomination today. ### France Will Pay, Herriot Declares

PARIS, Jan. 28.—"France does not intend to repudiate her debts," Premier Herriot declared in the chamber of deputies this afternoon, "but we have a right to appeal to the solidarity of our allies."

Herriot's speech was the high spot of interpellations concerning this country's debts and followed a statement along similar lines by Louis Dubois, president of the reparations commission, who said that while France would pay, interrelated debts and reparations were one and the same problem.

Alaska Mushers Race With Death

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Jan. 28.—With relays of the fastest dog teams in Alaska held in readiness at wide intervals, a race with death started today over a thousand miles of frozen trail between Nenana and Nome. To carry medical supplies to scores of Nome residents stricken with diphtheria. Every tube of antitoxin available has been gathered and wrapped in special packages and loaded on the sledges with other medical supplies. The best dog drivers in the north country volunteered to aid the fight to save the sufferers from death.

The serum which is hoped will check the epidemic was sent by train from Anchorage to Nenana, a distance of 300 miles, where William Shannon, crack driver, loaded the precious packages on his sled and mushed away through 54 degrees below zero to the first relay.

Humiliation Plea Secures Divorce

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 28.—Mrs. Annabelle Lee was granted a divorce from Don Lee, prominent automobile man, on charges of "humiliation." Her complaint alleged that her husband for the past three years has spent much of his time and money on other women.

"30" BULLETINS

With the finding of a coat, vest and a necktie on the beach at the foot of Thirty-eighth street, Huntington Beach, early today by police officers, were also discovered tracks leading to the water but not returning, Huntington Beach citizens are, today, watching the water front, fearful that the waves will wash up the body of the man who owned the clothes. The coat and vest were of blue material, and were said to be a size that would fit a man weighing approximately 140 pounds, with a height of about five feet, seven inches.

LONDON, Jan. 28.—Gloria Swanson, film star, was married in Paris today to Marquis de Falaize, according to the Central News.

Cabinet Is Cold When Stokers Strike

LONDON, Jan. 28.—Huddled around a grate fire, some ministers wearing their overcoats, the British cabinet met today at No. 10 Downing street and discussed the strike of 3,000 engineers and stokers whose business it is to keep warm London's palaces and government buildings.

The strikers are threatening to picket, if volunteer workers continue amateurish efforts to stoke furnaces in the houses of parliament and the prime minister's residence.

The cabinet bent every effort to effect a compromise because the cause of the walkout was so trivial, the union workers demanding discharge of a lamp shade cleaner in the mint who had not paid his union dues.

ROAD FINANCE HARD PROBLEM FOR SOLONS

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 28.—The problem of financing the state highway construction program is one of the "hard nuts" which the state legislature must "crack" when the second half of the bifurcated session opens Feb. 24.

Harvey Toy, chairman of the state highway commission, announced today that no plans for new construction would be made until some method of financing the work is found by the legislature.

The highway commission is strongly in favor of the increased gasoline tax and motor vehicle license fees proposed in a bill introduced by Senator Arthur Breed a few days before the legislature closed.

Breed's bill called for a one-cent increase in the gasoline tax, an increase of $2 in license fees and a bond issue of $25,000,000.

COMPLAINT FILED BUT WARRANT IS NOT ISSUED

Dr. Everett S. Boice, Newly Elected, Is Charged With Breaking Liquor Laws

STORM BREAKS TODAY AS ALLEGATIONS FLY

Declared to Have Issued Prescriptions For Rum Used As Beverage

THE FILING of a criminal complaint against Dr. Everett S. Boice, newly-elected mayor of the new city of La Habra, who is accused of issuing prescriptions for liquor for beverage purposes, and the asserted refusal of Justice H. E. Hart of La Habra to issue a warrant for the mayor's arrest, were the outstanding developments of a storm which broke today over the head of the La Habra executive.

Charges and counter charges flew thick and fast as Dr. Boice stepped directly into the teeth of the storm and prepared to offer a sturdy defense, while speculation buzzed and hummed over probable steps to be taken as a next move to cause the physician's arrest. The likelihood of mandamus proceedings to force the magistrate to act was discussed, when the district attorney's office declared that the complaint will not be transferred to another township and must be handled in La Habra, if at all.

Justice Refuses Warrant

Deputy Constable J. T. Bradford, of La Habra, preferred the charge against Dr. Boice. Bradford secured a complaint late yesterday and was then met, it is said, by Justice Hart's refusal to issue a warrant. There the matter temporarily hangs "in air."

Meanwhile Dr. Boice visited the district attorney's office today to demand, he said, "why such a complaint had been issued against him." He was closeted for some time with Chief Deputy District C. N. Mozley, who issued the complaint.

In an interview today, Dr. Boice characterized the charge as "an attack inspired by spite." The complaint itself, he said, is ridiculous, because physicians are allowed to issue 100 prescriptions for liquor every 90 days, "without any strings attached." His book, he said, shows that he had issued between 50 and 60 prescriptions nearly a year.

The physician himself is the court of last resort on the question of these prescriptions," said Dr. Boice. "He is the sole judge and his opinion is not open to question."

Question Character of Deputy Dr. Boice questioned the character of Deputy Constable Bradford and declared he is a member of a "ring" that he said was "recently prominent" at La Habra during and after the developments of the Grady Rutherford stabbing case, which resulted in the trial of Ira Noble on a murder charge.

"Bradford," said Dr. Boice, "is the officer who went two blocks out of his way on his way home that night, to 'discover' the body of Rutherford. He is the same man who, after deputy sheriffs had searched the vicinity with a fine tooth comb, found a knife said to have been carried by the dead man."

According to Bradford's accusations against the physician mayor, the officer arrested Cecil Chambers, who was said to have been in an intoxicated condition and who admitted that he had just had filled a prescription for liquor, issued by Dr. Boice.

Another physician called to examine Chambers, pronounced him physically fit and in no need of this liquor, according to Bradford. The officer claimed he could produce a witness who would swear that Dr. Boice had issued three liquor prescriptions to one man in one day.

With the attempt to prosecute the La Habra executive at an impenetrable man, on charges of "humiliation," it is said today, must resort to mandamus proceedings to progress further.

"This office expects to do nothing further in the case," said Chief Deputy District Attorney Mozley. "The charge must be handled in that township, if anywhere, so far as we are concerned."

STARS COMING TO WALKER'S ANNIVERSARY

Tomorrow will be Anniversary Day at Walker's theater here.

The handsome, costly playhouse, one of the prettiest and most modern on the West coast, was opened for the first time to the public January 23, 1924.

To celebrate the most successful operation of the showhouse during the first year of its existence, Manager C. E. Walker has completed arrangements for a unique "surprise bill" tomorrow night. "Smoldering Fires," a picture featuring such stars as Pauline Frederick, Laura La Plante, Malcolm McGregor, Tully Marshall, Wanda Hawley and Bert Roach, begins an engagement at the theater tomorrow.

Manager Walker has made arrangements for a number of stars of the motion picture world, including Laura La Plante and Reginald Denney, to appear in person at the theater.

Acts of high class vaudeville will add variety to the special program. There will be no advance in prices.

JAIL BROKER FOR LACK OF R. E. LICENSE

Louis Bouche, 43, Santa Ana real estate broker, was lodged in the Orange county jail last night on a felony warrant charging him with acting as a broker without first obtaining a state license.

According to a complaint on file in the district attorney's office, Bouche, acting as a broker and agent for George W. Chambers, Orange man, is alleged to have offered for sale to various signers of the complaint, including Fred W. Heidemann and Theo. K. Bidlingmaier, acreage in an agricultural project located in the state of Durango, district of Mesquite, Mexico, without having a salesman's license to do so.

Chambers, according to the police, is the man who was arrested here several days ago, in connection with the alleged forgery of a $1500 bank draft on a San Francisco bank, and who was taken to San Francisco, following his arrest, to answer to the charge. Chambers was a civil engineer, residing at Orange.

An investigation into Bouche's activities with the Mexican project has been under way in Santa Ana for several months, according to a statement made today by H. P. Riley, deputy attorney general of the State Real Estate department of Sacramento, who is in the city.

Bouche was arrested at his home at 607 1/2 West First street. No date has been set for his hearing on the charge.

OIL CORPORATION CASE IS RESTED

Plaintiff ranchers who are seeking to recover approximately $35,000 invested in production of a Pacific corporation oil well at Signal Hill, today rested their case in Superior Judge R. Y. Williams' court, after the court had denied their motion to amend the complaint. Charges of fraud and deceit accompanied the motion.

Attorneys James L. Allen and James L. Davis, representing the plaintiffs, charged that bonds placed with Jack Gaines and Mrs. Mollie Meinecke, Orange brokers, to be taken to a Long Beach bank and placed in escrow until certain conditions were issued by the Pacific corporation, had "shrunk" in transit. The bonds, amounting to $2150, were the property of Charles Labahn, one of the investors. They had shrunk to $1950 by the time they reached the bank, the attorney declared, in arguing his motion to amend, in order to charge fraud and deceit against all defendants, including the American Savings bank. The bank was included, he said, because the Labahn bonds further shrunk $477 for the benefit of the bank, while in the bank's hands.

The court refused to permit amending of the complaint. Attorney J. L. Richardson, representing Gaines and the other brokers, Attorney E. J. Marks, representing Benjamin S. Brubaker, an official of the Pacific corporation, and attorneys representing the bank then asked and were granted a short recess while they prepared motions to strike out portions of the plaintiffs' evidence.

Opinion Rules Rangers Out of Lone Star State

AUSTIN, Tex., Jan. 23.—As a result of the decision of Judge R. B. Major at San Antonio declaring the law creating the state ranger force unconstitutional and issuing a perpetual injunction against their further operations, Texas is now without this military protection.

The rangers have been active during the last two years in enforcing prohibition laws in San Antonio and citizens have protested to ex-Gov. Pat M. Neff from time to time against members of the force being stationed there.

Following the decision Adj. Gen. Thomas D. Barton issued orders to all ranger captains to suspend operations until the Supreme court acts on the case. A motion for appeal will be filed by the attorney and an effort made to get a Supreme court decision as early as possible.

Capital Letter

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—The aviation problem is one of the hardest puzzles the administration and congress are wrestling with just now.

Experts' views are very divergent. All want development but no two want it along the same lines.

The lawmakers are beginning to discover that airplanes are not as cheap as enthusiasts have represented.

The cost of a plane is a mere bagatelle compared with the cost of a battleship or even a cruiser, but there have to be dozens of times as many planes as battleships and cruisers and the planes don't last long.

Budget director Lord complains of overlapping of army and navy aviation activities, of the duplication of effort and expense. He wants a liaison system to eliminate this.

Major General Patrick and Brigadier General Mitchell of the army air service favor placing both army and navy service under a single executive head, an army man. Read Admiral Moffett of the navy air service says such an arrangement would take good care of the army but leave the navy unprotected.

Secretary of the Navy Wilbur agrees with Admiral Moffett, but Secretary of War Weeks disagrees with Generals Patrick and Mitchell.

Mitchell really is the most well-schooled aviation man in Washington. Patrick and Moffett are just as enthusiastic but Moffett holds the air service to be no more than army and navy arms and Patrick considers the combined services a military arm in a general way.

Mitchell looks on air power as entirely an independent proposition.

Secretaries Weeks and Wilbur take the same position that the tendency of the army and navy is to develop air forces of distinctive character, radically different in organization, methods, plan of operations and machine types.

The two secretaries argue thus: The army and navy have separate missions. The army fights on land and the navy on the water.

Land fighters have no business at sea, except possibly on their way to some other shore where land fighting is to be done. Sea fighters have no business on land, except occasionally temporarily, as when small forces of marines are landed.

Both branches of the service need aircraft—to help them, not to fight independently. To get just the kind of help they need the army commander should have aviators under his own command and the navy commander should have them under his command.

Pleasant Luncheon Marks Meeting of Current Events

Mrs. X. V. Ayers and Mrs. C. H. Larkner were co-hostesses yesterday at a very charmingly-appointed luncheon meeting of the First Current Events section of Ebell at the hospitable home of the former, 2122 North Main street.

The delectable menu was prettily served at 1 o'clock, a colorful Valentine motif being achieved by the artistic use of delicate spring blossoms, and other emblems honoring the coming season of the good old saint.

After the usual business session, plans for a Valentine ball to be held in Ebell club house on the evening of Saturday, February 14, at 8:30 p. m., were made. Chapman's orchestra will play for the dancing, which is a guarantee of a pleasant time.

Besides the hostesses, those present were Meses. Charles Chamberlain, N. E. Lentz, Jules Hilton, W. G. Knox, J. G. Rose, Chaney, Charles V. Doty, H. A. Gardner, George Osterman, Edwin Dickinson, Arthur May, Clarence McClintock, E. Van Meter, R. W. Townsend, W. H. Fairbanks, Jesse Goodman, John Estes and Miss Louise Tubbs.

Bobbed Hair Debate Feature of Luncheon

The members of the Tuesday morning women's class of the Y. M. C. A. gym club were hostesses to the members of the Tuesday night class at a luncheon served at the "Y" building yesterday at noon.

The tables, at which 160 were served, presented a beautiful appearance with their saucy little kewpies, dressed in big red bows, and the red rose nut cups, the general colorful effect tending to add to the general happy spirit which prevailed. Valentine place cards were utilized, names being pinned upon the backs of the middies of the guests, all being asked to guess their names through questions transferred to the front, and places found.

Committees in charge of the successful arrangements for the menu, decorations and program were in charge of Meses. R. R. Russell, R. R. Miller, R. A. Evans, R. P. Preston, A. Van Meter, C. E. Price, L. Crasher, E. A. Cox and Miss Carolyn Haughton.

Mrs. R. R. Miller made a most acceptable toastmistress and the responses were made in song, prose and poetry. Miss Carolyn Haughton planned the menu. Mrs. J. C. Hayden was the leader and Mrs. Parker the accompanist. Mrs. R. S. Briggs pleased with an instrumental number, Mrs. J. B. Bichan rendered pleasingly a vocal solo, accompanied by Mrs. Parker, and Mrs. F. T. Porter gave the humorous touch with a colored dialect story.

The hit of the program was the thrilling debate on "Whether it be the thing or not the thing to have bobbed hair." The arguments were made by Mrs. Charles Hosea, who has bobbed hair, and Mrs. C. L. Johnson, who still retains her crowning glory. Whatever the decision of the judges might have been, they took the better part of valor and made no ruling at all, because three-fourths of the women present had their locks shorn in the prevailing styles.

Celebrates Birthday With Her Teachers

Honoring the twelfth birthday of their daughter, Miss Helen Greer, the Rev. and Mrs. G. N. Greer of 720 East Third street, entertained at dinner last evening the teachers of Roosevelt school, where Miss Helen is a pupil.

A delicious four-course dinner was served at 6 o'clock, the table presenting a festive appearance with its lovely centerpiece of pale pink sweet peas, pink nut baskets and harmonizing place cards. The birthday cake held the required number of pink tapers, and was cut by the young honoree.

After dinner had been thoroughly enjoyed, Miss Beth Walker and Miss Esther Davis rendered vocal solos, accompanied by Miss Gladys Campbell and the Rev. Mr. Greer read charmingly a selection, by James Whitcomb Riley and a character number. The evening's pleasures were concluded with merry games.

Besides the family, those participating in the hospitality of the Greer home were the Meses Verna E. Wells, principal of Roosevelt school, Martha Wirick, Margaret Grant, May Pullman, Pearl Campbell, Gladys Campbell, Isabel Lindsay, Beth Walker and Elsie Carter.

Miss Evelyn Farnsworth Honoree Saturday At Dinner-Dance

A charming event of last Saturday was the surprise dinner-dance at Ketner's given by F. E. Farnsworth, vice president of the First National bank, and Mrs. Farnsworth of 2219 North Broadway, honoring their attractive daughter, Miss Evelyn Farnsworth, a student at Marlborough school, Los Angeles.

Miss Evelyn arrived from Los Angeles with five of her college mates and her surprise was complete when she found a coterie of her home friends gathered to greet her.

A delightful dinner was served at 7 o'clock, a charming decorative scheme being artistically accomplished with lavender, pink and yellow, dainty sweet peas in graceful baskets, predominating. The other appointments carried out the prevailing hues.

Mr. and Mrs. Farnsworth were assisted in their pleasant duties of seeing that youth enjoyed itself in the favorite pastime of dancing, by Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Liebig.

The guest list included Miss Neida Jeffroy and Miss Marian Jahn of Los Angeles; Miss Lois Murphy of Porterville and the Meses Sarah and Mary McReynolds of Phoenix, Ariz., who came from Marlborough with the honoree; the Meses Emily and Dorothy Holmes, Margaret Whitte, Virginia Slabaugh, Adelaide Spencer and Helen Bowers of Santa Ana; Messrs. Mr. and Mrs. Bently J. Harris of 2005 South Ross street, entertained at a delightful dinner on Tuesday evening, in honor of their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Greenlee of Spokane, Wash., the affair being a reunion of Spokane old friends and neighbors.

Utilizing English violets, nasturtiums and carnations in harmonizing effect, Mrs. Harris' table proved most attractive.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Patton of San Gabriel and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Burgess of Portland, Ore.

Recalling pleasant events of former days was the pastime of the guests for the evening hours. Mr. Burgess making the remark that if one wishes to see some one whom he has known, all he has to do is to come to California, wait awhile and eventually you will meet an old friend.

Capistrano Institute Will Sponsor Work For Women

Capistrano Institute, No. 104, has decided to go into business. The action was taken at a very well attended and enthusiastic meeting at Knights of Columbus hall last evening, when the plan of Mrs. Margaret Boyles, school Americanization teacher, was explained to the members.

The institute will finance Mrs. Boyles' school of fancy work for Mexican women, whom she will supervise in their work for which she will find a market when finished, paying the women for their articles upon completion.

Mrs. Boyles is fashioning her school from a very successful one conducted at Long Beach.

The handwork made by the workers will be made on the best of materials and only proficient women will be allowed to handle them. Orders will be taken for any kind of needlework and at intervals sales will be held by Mrs. Boyles.

A revolving fund of $50 is to be furnished by the Young Ladies Institute, which is also sponsoring the Confraternity of Christian doctrine work among the Mexicans in this city.

Capistrano institute will entertain its members at a pretty Valentine party on Tuesday, February 10, the next meeting. A committee with Mrs. U. J. Englemann as chairman, will make the arrangements, as announced by the president, Miss Clara Bleasner.

Following the business meeting, a committee took charge and conducted a very jolly "children's" party, with merry games and the service of striped stick candy and ice cream cones.

Legion Auxiliary

Those interested in the fine welfare work being carried on for ex-service men by the American Legion Auxiliary are urged to keep in mind the card party announced by it for tomorrow night at the Legion hall. Men and women are given a cordial welcome to attend tomorrow evening's party, where an enjoyable time is promised. There will be worth while prizes and delectable refreshments.

heavens as they appear at 9 p. m.

To view the stars as they appear in the heavens, hold the map over the head, or inverted, with the top toward the north.

The glorious constellation of Orion, generally considered to be the finest in the heavens, will now be found on the meridian due south.

It contains two stars of the first magnitude, Betelgeuse, red, and Rigel, bluish-white, and five stars of the second magnitude. Three of these in a straight line and equally spaced, form the Belt of Orion.

REPORT LEASES FOR OIL STILL MUCH WANTED

Unconfirmed rumors continued today concerning activities of the large oil companies in securing leases in the Greenville and Buena Vista districts. So far as could be learned today there have been no leases in addition to those mentioned in The Register yesterday.

Rumors, however, associate the Standard Oil company with a big development program in the district.

According to rumors, it is the theory of geologists that the heavy oil being found in the Newport Beach district and on the mesa in the Costa Mesa district, is the result of oil seeping from this location to a structure further north. This structure is believed to be largely in the Greenville district, it is said.

Standard Oil representatives are close-mouthed about intentions of the company, and particularly as to the point where the first drilling will be made.

It is said that men who operate
"divining rods" in past years have gone over the Greenville district and have satisfied themselves that there is a large basin of oil in a two-mile wide strip lying between Greenville road on the west and the Irvine ranch on the east, with the north line of the pool extending north nearly to Edinger road.

It was pointed out here today that development of a good oil field immediately south of Santa Ana would be of inestimable value to the city, and would result in making Santa Ana the center of oil activity. Actual drilling by the Standard Oil company or some other larger oil operating company is being anticipated with considerable interest by business men of the city.

SPEED TRAP CASE
BRIEFS REQUESTED

The Victor Fleming appeal involving constitutionality of the motor vehicle act provision which excludes speed trap evidence in the trials of speeders, will be decided by the state supreme court upon briefs, it was determined yesterday when attorneys for Fleming and District Attorney A.
P. Nelson appeared in Los Angeles before the tribunal.

David R. Faries, chief counsel for the Auto Club of Southern California, represented Fleming, and asked permission to file an additional brief in the case, covering the question of jurisdiction.
The court ordered him to cover all points of the case in his brief, thus indicating that the merits of the question may be passed on by the court.

Nelson will be allowed 15 days
in which to answer the Faries' brief. He informed the court yesterday that he was willing to rest his case on briefs previously filed, unless Faries raised new points.

INDIAN POET ILL
ROME, Jan. 29.—Rabindranath
Tagore, Indian poet, has cancelled all engagements to lecture in Italy because of ill health, and is returning to India Thursday.

A line of faint stars extending downward from the belt, represents the Sword of Orion. The central star appears somewhat fuzzy to the naked eye, and even a small telescope resolves this into the most magnificent object of its kind in the heavens, the Great Orion Nebula with the multiple star Theta embedded in its heart.

The three stars in the Belt of Orion slant toward the southeast in the general direction of Sirius, the brightest of all the stars in the constellation of Canis Major, The Greater Dog.

Procyon, in Canis Minor, The Lesser Dog, lies to the northeast of Sirius. The two dogs are close

ONE MAN KILLED IN CROSSING CRASH

George A. Foster, 55, oil man of Tonopah, Nev., who has been residing at Huntington Park for the past several months, was instantly killed, when the car he was driving was struck by the Santa Fe passenger train No. 1,
San Diego to Los Angeles, at Northern crossing, two miles north of Buena Park, at 7:30
a. m. today.

Possible death or serious injury
was averted by R. L. Lawson, 452 Stockwell street, Compton, when he fell into the back seat of the automobile which had struck a mule he was riding on the Garden Grove boulevard, one-fourth mile west of Garden Grove
last night at 7 o'clock.

Heavy fog which clothed the neighborhood of the accident is believed to have been responsible for Foster not seeing the approaching train. His car was struck just as he started over the tracks.

A coroner's jury will hold an inquest tomorrow at Fullerton.
Dense fog was also given as the cause for the automobile driven by James A. Huber, of Garden Grove, running into a herd of mules which was being driven along the road by Lawson.

Lawson was taken to the Orange county hospital where his injuries, which consisted of minor cuts and bruises about the body were given medical attention.

CHICAGO BD. OF TRADE

CHICAGO, Jan. 28.—May and July wheat and May rye went into new post war records in a strong and sharply higher finish on the Board of Trade today.

May wheat leaped to $2.05 in a rapid and steady rise from the opening but at the extreme top eased off on profit taking and finished at $2.04.

Cor borrowed most of its strength from wheat, although country offerings were smaller on account of the recent decline and cash prices were higher.

Only held relatively firm after dropping 1/4.

Provisions finished easy on account of the weak hog situation and lack of foreign demand.

Stage and Screen

Conrad Nagel in a scene from "Excuse Me," current attraction at the Walker theater.

"EXCUSE ME" GOES ALONG
LIKE EXPRESS TRAIN.

A picture whose action moves with the rapidity of an express has been found at last. It's "Excuse Me," the pictureization of Rupert Hughes' famous stage farce which is now showing at Walker's theater. This joyous farce tells of a pair of nearly-weds who find themselves aboard an express train at night searching for a minister they will never find because he has doffed clerical garb for merriment.

The characters in this uproariously funny photoplay are brought to life by a cast of tried and true cinema favorites. Conrad Nagel and Norma Shearer are the marital aspirants, and Renee Adoree is the French friend who almost disrupts their romance. The supporting cast includes Walter Hiers, John Boles, Bert Roach and William V. Mong.

"THE ROUGHNECK" HAILED
ONE OF BEST FILMS.

"The one best love picture in five years!"

"Photodrama 100 per cent as you like it!"

"For cast, colorfulness and climaxes this is the zenith of the cinema."

"I'll wager now that 'The Roughneck' will rank right at the top among the best pictures of the season of 1924-25 and that George O'Brien will be a bigger name than Valentino's."

This is not the unbridled enthusiasm of a press agent anxious to hold his job by waxing superlatively. On the contrary, these are excerpts from a voluntary review by Bert D. Essex, an international famous film critic who for years has distinguished himself by his enlightening analyzing of current pictures in such well-known magazines as Photoplay Journal, Camera and others.

"The Roughneck" is showing at the Yost theater.

Movie Chatterbox

Mrs. Rudolph Valentino is a happy combination of the modern woman and the old-fashioned wife. She is the film star's adviser and aide in his profession and at the same time gives attention to the home.

This, Mrs. Valentino believes, makes for the ideal happiness in married life.

"A wife should subordinate her own career and personality to that of her husband," Mrs. Valentino told the United Press. Under the name Natacha Rambova, she was one of the highest paid art directors in the picture colony. Now she has given up her professional name and is known only as Mrs. Valentino.

"If this be treason to the Lucy Stone league, it will have to make the best of it," she said.

"However, I do not feel that a woman need occupy herself only with domestic duties after marriage, particularly if she is trained in some professional work," she continued. "Many women with sufficient means to hire servants to look after their houses find that time hangs heavily on their hands. They sink into that most dangerous condition—boredom."

"My own time is devoted to helping Mr. Valentino in making his pictures, but I always feel that his should be the final word. The masculine mind is more capable of grasping business problems than the feminine."

"If that be treason to the feminists, make the most of that, too."

Mrs. Valentino also believes in the inclusion of the word "obey" in the marriage ceremony.

"If a woman is honest with herself, she will admit right down in her heart that she likes to obey her husband," she explained. "She respects him more when she feels that he expects it. Of course, that doesn't prevent her from bending him occasionally."

Tony Moreno has played his last American part for some months and is en route to Europe, where he will make a picture.

Moreno, who 16 years ago came to this country a poor baker's boy, returns to his home in Spain a millionaire, as a result of an unusually successful picture career and investments in Los Angeles and Hollywood real estate and oil lands.

In France, the star will join Rex Ingram, the director, and journey to Spain, where Moreno will play the leading role in Ibáñez's "Mare Nostrum," to be produced on a gigantic scale. The production will take nearly a year to complete.

One enjoyable part of the trip will be a visit with his mother in Spain, whom he has not seen since he came to America.

Mrs. Moreno, formerly Mrs. Daisy Danziger, society leader, is accompanying her husband abroad.

A movie crown has been spurned

DOG, HORSE VIE FOR PICTURE HONORS.

If the picture-going public thinks it has seen the so-called "last word" in animal performances on the screen, it is said to be mistaken and due for a genuine surprise at the West End theater where the ever-popular Tom Mix will be seen in his latest triumph, "Teeth," in which his wonder horse, Tony, and a handsome brute of a dog, a great Dane, vie with each other in displaying histrionic intelligence which compares favorably with the most brilliant efforts of the best human actors of the day. The remarkable part of it is, "Teeth" is not advertised as an animal picture nor does William Fox, the producer, even say so in the feature of the film at all. Yet it is a bit of a bit if ever two beasts manifested such consummate skill in interpreting a fine art before in all the history of amusement.

Tony long since has earned a place high among leading stars of the silver screen, but this stellar mount of the stellar Mix found it necessary to extend itself to keep up with the amazing thespian pace set by the dog selected to play opposite it in this photodrama of the great west. In fact, it is a race for honors in which every audience is sure to take a lively interest from beginning to end.

Movie Director,
Actress to Wed

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 28.—Wedding of George Melford, director, and Diana Miller, actress, was being anticipated today, following word that the final decree of divorce separating Melford and his first wife, has been recorded. Melford and Miss Miller announced their engagement some time ago, the nuptials awaiting the legal permission. Melford's real name is George Henry Knauff. In her divorce complaint, Mrs. Knauff mentioned Jacqueline Logan, film actress.

by a Los Angeles "dance hall queen."

Director Monte Bell tried to hire her for dance hall scenes for his forthcoming production, "Lady of the Night."

To get proper atmosphere, Bell visited rather "hard boiled" dance palaces in the rougher district and engaged a number of the patrons of the resort as extras.

This girl—the queen of them all—wouldn't take the job.

"Why should I," she told Bell. "I get a dime a dance here, see? I make $22.50 a turn, see? I average a hundred berries a week at a dime a dance, see? I work 'till two o'clock every morning and day-times I sleep and rest my dogs, see?"

When Louise Fazenda left Mack Sennett's comedy lot with a contract from Warner Brothers for "featured leads" she gave a big sigh of relief. No more slapstick thought Louise.

Recently Miss Fazenda was loaned to Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer to work in Robert Z. Leonard's production of "Cheaper to Marry." Here are a few of the things she had to do:

Make a 30-foot dive; stay under water one minute; make three comic falls; ride an ostrich and take a mud bath.

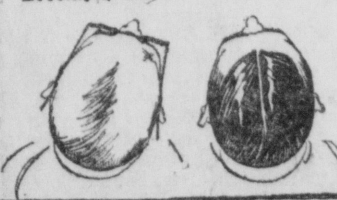

After it was all over, Miss Fazenda remarked:

"Guess I'll go back to Sennett's where they made dramatic pictures."

SAY DRAFT DODGER LONGS FOR HOME

BERLIN, Jan. 28.—Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, notorious American draft evader, may be preparing to abandon his refuge in Germany and return to the United States, the United Press learned today.

Private advices from Eberbach, where Bergdoll has made his headquarters, said that his relatives in America have been bending every effort to induce him to return and throw himself on the mercy of the law following surrender of his former chauffeur and companion, Eugene Stecher, who gave himself up in Philadelphia last week.

"It is believed here," the Eberbach messages said, "that Stecher was sent ahead to sound out sentiment toward Bergdoll. If the draft evader considers his prospects favorable he might return and surrender for punishment."

S. A. SCHOOL OFFICIAL IS OPPOSED TO EXTENSION OF TEACHERS' RETIREMENT AGE

Prospects of retiring under their own vine and fig tree with a small pension as a compensation for a lifetime of hard and strenuous work in the public schools, look rather slim to most of Santa Ana teachers, according to an actuarial report of the financial condition of the teachers' retirement funds, which shows that the whole scheme of retirement has gone on the rocks of bankruptcy.

Considerable concern was expressed this morning by City Superintendent John A. Cranston over the reported state of affairs, which, he declared, would have a most disastrous effect on the morale of the teaching force, unless remedied in a manner satisfactory to the teachers.

The report, a copy of which was received this morning by Superintendent Cranston, was prepared by S. Gundelfinger. It states:

"Subject to the qualifications hereinafter made, I estimate that on November 30, 1924, the commitments of the State of California arising from the operation of the laws dealing with the retirement of public school teachers exceed present and future resources arising from the operation of the same laws by a sum not less than $32,848,453.05.

"This means that adequate provision under present laws for the obligations of the state to the present force of both active and retired teachers necessitates the accumulation of funds equivalent to a present investment of 23 million dollars earning 4 per cent interest per annum, in addition to the $2,300,000 now on hand and invested, and in addition to the contributions to be made in the future by and on behalf of the present teaching force.

"Any increase in the number of active teachers will require further provisions on a similar scale. The continuing ability of the system to meet its currently maturing obligations is being maintained solely at the expense of, and at the practically total loss to, the great majority of the present force of approximately 22,000 public school teachers.

Explains Deficiency
 The cause of the deficiency is explained as follows:

"The unfavorable condition of the retirement funds is not unique, but constitutes a repetition of the history of practically every public and many private pension systems. Two principal causes are responsible for it. To begin with a great number of prospective beneficiaries entering the system at the time of its establishment had to their credit a service record involving a large commitment on the part of the state, which then had no commensurate resources in the fund to offset these commitments. In the second place the contributions exacted from the teachers and made on their behalf in accordance with law are insufficient.

Reductions Planned
 Calculated to reduce the number of prospective beneficiaries, and thus put the fund on a sound footing, though benefitting a comparatively small number is a bill introduced by Assemblyman Foster under which no teacher would become eligible to retirement until having reached the age of 58, or physically or mentally incapacitated.

The measure does not meet with the approval of Superintendent Cranston, who remarked that the age limit would defeat the very purpose of the pension system. "It would practically compel teachers to serve forty years before they could take a well earned rest, unless physically disabled," he said. Speaking further the superintendent said that the pension matter should receive the earnest consideration of the people of California, and particularly those interested in public education. He also ventured the belief that unless some satisfactory arrangements were made, some of the most efficient teachers would leave for places where better inducements are offered.

SANTA CRUZ TO SEE SEA NYMPS

SANTA CRUZ, Jan. 28.—"Miss California" will be crowned at Santa Cruz this year after all. A storm of public opinion caused the chamber of commerce to reverse its action last week when it yielded to the Ministerial association and decided that no bathing beauties would parade here this year.

But having reversed itself, it was announced that a compromise had been reached satisfying all parties, to-wit:

That no one piece, skin tight bathing suits shall be worn by competing beauties; and

That there be no theater exhibition of state femininity beahtfully clothed as usually occurs down town; the feat of loveliness and flow of soul must be confined to the beach itself; and further

That beauty, to win the championship, must be more than skin deep and embrace physical, mental, moral and spiritual pachtitude. So everybody's satisfied.

School and College News Of Santa Ana

"Exams" Spoil Parties

Junior college students are having no parties, no assemblies, no even class recitations during this week of final examinations. Regular assembly on Wednesday is not to be held. High school students had completed their examination schedule yesterday.

Grades Due Soon

With the final examinations at the high school concluded, the students are to receive their grade slips on Friday, the day the semester closes.

Colleagues To Register

Junior college registration began today to be continued for the rest of the week. In making the announcement J. Russell Bruff, vice principal of the junior college, who has charge of the registration, declared that all the colleagues would be required to make out their programs anew for the coming term.

The registration is being held in room 55 after the hour of 10 o'clock and through the afternoon.

New courses being offered include college algebra, trigonometry, modern drama, logic, men's hygiene, United States constitution, and English composition.

Teachers Taken Ill

Miss Lulu B. Finley, high school registrar, who records the absences of the students was herself absent yesterday.

Another of the teachers who has been kept at home is Miss May E. Murphy, head of the English department. Since last Thursday, Miss Murphy has been on the absent list suffering with a serious cold. She was expected to be back at school today. Miss Finley is also victim of a cold, bringing about a high temperature. She is expected back in her office marking absences soon.

English Is Popular
 Student disgust in the struggles over the mother tongue is passing if the demand for the elective senior English course is any indication.

This year for the first time it had been possible to offer a starting class at the mid-term. Usually there is but one class which starts with the opening of school and continues throughout the year and even that class numbers few students.

Thirty students in the recent registration declared their interest in starting the course. Miss Elizabeth M. Wyant will be in charge of the class. After being forced through three years of English, students are apt to turn a cold shoulder toward its study, but it is said that the trend seems to be turning the point where "students see advantages in continuing in English".

FIND NUGGET THAT STARTED 1849 RUSH

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—The gold nugget, which started 100,000 men into California in the gold rush of 1849, has been found, Senator Shortridge, Republican, California, announced. Shortridge has already started negotiations with its owner, Walter C. Wyman, of New York, for purchase of the famous Marshall nugget, heretofore believed lost.

The nugget is about the size and shape of a well-formed lima bean and is valued at $5000. As soon as authenticity of the bit of gold is established, the deal will be closed, Shortridge says.

Discovery of the nugget came about through a newspaper story of Senator Shortridge's long search for it.

ARBuckle's WIFE IS GIVEN DIVORCE

PARIS, Jan. 28.—Minta Durfee, actress, has been granted a divorce from Roscoe Arbuckle on grounds of desertion.

ROTUND COMEDIAN TO MARRY AGAIN

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 28.—Roscoe Arbuckle, former film comedian, divorced today in Paris by Minta Durfee, will wed Doris Deane, screen actress, within a fortnight, according to well founded rumor in studio circles. Arbuckle would neither deny nor affirm the report. Instead, he expressed interest in the dispatch that his wife's divorce petition had been allowed, and admitted that he and Miss Deane "are very good friends."

Alleged Tamperer Pleads Not Guilty

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 28.—Wilbur Campbell, automobile dealer, charged with attempting to influence a juror in the recent trial of Kid McCoy, today pleaded not guilty to the charge. McCoy was found guilty of manslaughter in connection with the death of Mrs. Teresa Mors.

OUR— NEIGHBORS

POMONA—Despite gloomy predictions of frost, delayed rainfall, heavy production of Florida oranges and numerous bugaboo, the Pomona valley fruit grower will be prosperous in 1925, judging from reports received from authentic sources. Now that safe estimates can be made of the outcome of the citrus crop, attention is turning to the deciduous fruit crops, and peaches particularly. The outlook for a bountiful peach crop and other deciduous fruits in this section is favorable, and the market is very satisfactory.

SAN BERNARDINO—By unanimous vote, the board of supervisors of San Bernardino county has selected the Arrowhead avenue site, between Third and Fourth streets, for the county's new courthouse. With $75,000 subscribed by a syndicate of San Bernardino business men to purchase the site, the supervisors immediately instructed the district attorney to institute condemnation proceedings. A bond issue will be called to finance the erection of the new courthouse, replacing the antiquated and quake-damaged structure now occupied by the county offices. The property at Court and E streets will probably be retained by the county as income property, the rental eventually retiring the bonds.

WHITTIER—Possibility that Whittier may yet have a big city park utilizing the natural advantages of the hills with which nature has endowed this community took definite shape when the board of city trustees, the park superintendent, city engineer and city attorney, in company with President Walter F. Dexter and Prof. H. E. Harris of Whittier college, made a tour of inspection through College Hills and inspected 60 acres of land which has been proposed for a natural city park. The acreage lies over the ridge of the subdivision known as College Hills proper and is a part of the 1200 acre Whittier ranch which was taken over by a local syndicate for the purpose of assisting the college.

BEAUMONT—Beaumont, Banning and neighboring San Geronimo pass districts are attracting many motorists from all parts of Southern California. The reason is that almond trees are beginning to bloom in sufficient numbers to dot the orchards of the district with their pink blossoms. North from the town of Beaumont over the paved highway into the Cherry valley district there are a number of almond groves, though not as numerous as those bordering the Ocean-to-Ocean highway. Along the Beaumont-Lamb canyon road and the north bench road between the twin cities there are also numerous groves.

ARCADIA—Work has been started on construction of a large substation by the Southern California Edison company on Lower Azusa road and El Monte street, adjoining the southern and western city limits of Arcadia. The substation will cost $150,000 and in addition to this about $6000 will be spent for construction of new lines to knit the district more closely together. The plant will be called the Anita substation and will have a capacity of not less than 1500 kilowatts of 2200 horsepower. It is to be in operation before the end of March. A house and garage, besides the substation and equipment, are to be included in the $150,000 expenditure.

LONG BEACH—Construction of the first unit of the Pacific Coast Steel corporation's $15,000,000 plant here may be expected to start early this coming summer. This was the statement of A. D. Schindler, chief engineer of the company, who has been here from San Francisco. The steel company plans to build blast furnaces and ovens and the ultimate expenditure here of many millions of dollars in additional units as the business of the company expands, it is asserted. Its coal and coke and iron supplies have been arranged with deposits in the northwest and in the southwest.

POMONA—Two new boulevards west from Pomona for relieving traffic congestion are being considered by the regional planning committee. One would run west from Fifth avenue, skirting the base of the Puente hills, crossing Brea canyon road south of the railroad tracks, westward along and through the Puente hills to North Whittier Heights and thence to Whittier boulevard into Los Angeles. The other would skirt the base of the Puente hills north of the railroad and making a junction with the valley boulevard beyond Spadra and also with the Covina highway now being constructed.

The Busy Corner 4th and Sycamore SPICER'S The Busy Corner 4th and Sycamore

The "School of Medicine," the leading Medical Journal of Mexico, speaking of Aguamiel (Agmel), said in an editorial in 1912: "it is the only substance known up to the present time in the whole world, having the power to radically and permanently overcome..."

Bright's Disease

HERETOFORE sufferers from Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Blood Pressure and other ailments have traveled from all parts of the world to a certain district of Mexico where they could partake of the healing sap of the Maguey plant. This sap in its natural state sours in a few hours time. There was no way of preventing this without destroying its health-giving elements. After fourteen years of experimentation a method of evaporation has been discovered by which this sap can be concentrated and kept sweet indefinitely without lessening in any degree its healing effect. So "Agmel" can now go out into the world and perform the healing it has done at home.

High Blood Pressure, Chronic Indigestion, Diabetes, Run Down Condition

"Agmel has done wonders for me" (in treatment of Bright's Disease) writes a Toronto man. "We have had ten days' test of Agmel on our ten-year old boy, with most remarkable results" (kidney trouble) writes another. A man with high blood pressure writes "Reduced my blood pressure from 179 to 145 in one week." A physician writes, regarding his patient "Before he began taking Agmel the amount of sugar in his urine was 0.05% to 3.5%. Since the first week of Agmel treatment I have failed to find any sugar present." Another physician, answering the question of his patient, writes "My experience with Agmel covers only two cases. One a case of diabetes—this case is an apparent cure in thirty days. The other, a case of a man of affairs who was nervous, had gastric trouble, constipation etc. His wife was in about the same condition. They are like a pair of kids now."

What Agmel has done for others it can do for you. It is a corrective food- tonic—not a drug.

47 PER CENT OF CHILDREN IN HOME ARE FAR-SIGHTED

Dr. Johnson Makes Report on Tests Given at Juvenile Institution

MORE THAN THIRD REQUIRE GLASSES

Vision of Kiddies Examined By Optometrist Is Found Below Average

That 47 per cent of the children in the juvenile home on Fruit street are far-sighted and 5 per cent near-sighted, is made public in a statement today by Dr. C. W. Johnson, optometrist, who has charge of eye examinations in Santa Ana schools.

Dr. Johnson recently completed examination of the eyes of children at the home and, although his report shows that 57 per cent had normal vision, many of this number were classified as having normal vision because they will be able to overcome certain defects in their sight.

Of the 23 children he examined, both boys and girls, Dr. Johnson said 39 per cent should be wearing glasses that would correct certain defects. His report shows that none of the 23 wears glasses, however.

The report shows: normal vision, 57 per cent; subnormal vision, 43 per cent; hyperopic (far-sighted), 47 per cent; astigmatic, 43 per cent; myopic (near-sighted), 5 per cent; emmetropic (perfect), 5 per cent; cross-eyed, 8 per cent.

Dr. Johnson said his findings at the juvenile home showed that these children are higher in defects than the average school child now in the schools of Santa Ana, and that their defects were about 9 per cent greater.

He explained this by saying that more care was given the school children and that, with more care, there was less eye trouble.

GRAVEL PIT RENT SUBJECT OF SUIT

Aaron Engel was plaintiff today in a suit on file in the superior court against George A. Simpson, who holds a lease on a gravel pit owned by Engel. Engel asks judgment for $550 which he alleges is due as rental under the lease.

The gravel pit, located on Santiago creek near the north limits of Santa Ana, was originally leased to the Quality Builders' Material company, which assigned the lease to Simpson.

Attorney A. E. Koepsel, of Orange, represents the plaintiff.

Chambers to Assemble At Laguna

January meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange county will be held Thursday, at 6:30 p. m., at the Tea and Tiffin, Laguna Beach. It was announced today by George Raymer, secretary of the organization.

According to the secretary, no big topic is scheduled for discussion. He said that it was not expected that the matter of selection of a site for the Southern Branch of the University of California would be brought before the meeting.

"Discussion of this subject is not scheduled, and if it is presented it will be by some one other than officers of the chambers," Raymer said.

Residents of Santa Ana who will attend the meeting should make reservation with A. L. Olier, secretary of the Santa Ana chamber, before Thursday morning. It is understood the Tea and Tiffin will serve a chicken dinner.

POLICE OFFER HINTS TO AID IN CRIME CHECK

Police say that almost nightly some merchant in the downtown section of the city goes home and leaves his safe unlocked, or the door unlocked or without a light burning in the store and that many times it is necessary for the police to enter the building.

At the same time they issue a few hints, which they claim would aid the police department in protecting downtown stores against fires and burglars.

One of the suggestions is that each downtown merchant place a card on the front door, with his name and telephone number thereon, or the name and address of someone who has a key to the place, so that in case a fire or a thief is seen by officers, they can quickly open the front door.

Several nights ago, a small motor was seen smoking in one store. The police did not have a key or know where they could get one. One officer watched the motor while another endeavored to find the person who had a key. Before the officers could return the motor burst into flames, and it was necessary for the officer who was watching through the front door to crash the glass, and go inside to put out the flames. This damage to property could have been averted if a card had been placed on the front door telling where a key could be located.

Another suggestion is that all merchants burn lights at the rear of their stores, to show the entire room to officers, and because it is easily seen, they say, and it would make the work of the officers easier. When these lights are out a special investigation would be made and the fact that it was out, reported to the owner of the store.

AUTO TRADES MEN TO OFFER COMEDY DRAMA

"Traveling Salesman" Is Name of Play to Be Given February 5-6

A lonely little town, a long way out, snow covered ground, with no one around but a few farmers and some folk running over to "Mother's" for dinner on a Christmas day, with the small town depot as a setting—this, in brief, is a glimpse of the first act in "The Traveling Salesman," comedy-drama, to be presented at Yost's theater February 5 and 6, under the auspices of the Orange County Trades association.

The cast of fifteen persons is being rehearsed by Griffith Barnett, a professional director of many years experience, who says that the players already have developed a fine stage appearance and will present the production in professional style.

Misses Own Train "Can you imagine helping others to catch their train and getting to catch your own?" said Barnett, in describing the action of the comedy.

"This is what Mrs. Babbitt does. After waiting two hours for her trunk that was scheduled to arrive on the train. She says she has to have that trunk because she has a clean nightgown to her back."

"This remark touches the funny bone of Beth Elliott, the telephone operator, and while she is still laughing at Mrs. Babbitt's plight, in breezes the traveling salesman with a somewhat hazy idea of whether Beth is laughing with him or at him. Then follows a rapid cross-fire scene that has made every one who ever saw it remember the quality of the play.

"The second act takes one to the Elite hotel, which is not unlike most small town hotels, located off the beaten track, with its complete service rolled into one. The scene is a moving, but obliging 'culled man' whose main object in life is to collect.

Play "Old Maid" "Here the traveling salesman displays his sample. He runs across a few other belated drummers who could not get home for various reasons, being snow-bound. They gather in his room for a little game of old maid(?) the game being interrupted by the villain, who has nearly succeeded in 'drowning his sorrows.' The villain has big ideas in cornering real estate and giving this way is what leads to an unforgettable climax.

"It is here that the showing of samples is stressed, the samples being furnished from stocks of local merchants and shown on living models. In other words it is in this act that the style revue will be presented, with the showing of spring fashions in women's wearing apparel.

"The merchants who will be responsible for the style show will have some very beautiful garments on display.

"The Traveling Salesman" as a play, has always been a big box office winner, because of its quaint characters and because it is a clean and wholesome production. It is full of good, clean comedy—the kind one is glad to remember and to see for the second or third time."

SENDS TELEGRAM CONCERNING DAM

The senate committee on irrigation has decided to postpone until next session action on the Swing-Johnson bill, according to a telegram received here today by Mayor J. W. Tubbs from Senator Shortridge, in response to a telegram sent by Tubbs urging the senator to support the Johnson-Swing bill providing for the Boulder dam project.

"In the meantime the committee is to make personal inspection of Boulder canyon and other proposed sites for the dam, holding meetings at convenient places, and prepare a report and make suggestions for solving the Colorado river problem to be submitted upon convening of congress," the senator says in his wire. "The house committee will be invited to join the senate committee. The time for making the inspection has not yet been fixed, but probably will be in October or early in November. You and other interested parties will be notified."

A similar telegram also was received by Col. S. H. Finley, member of the board of supervisors, who was a member of a delegation of California representatives recently appearing before the committee in Washington.

GRADE CROSSING ACCIDENTS ON S. P. LINES REDUCED 22 PER CENT DURING 1924

Grade crossing accidents on the lines of the Southern Pacific, per 1000 registered automobiles, in 1924 were decreased 22.07 per cent, as compared with 1923, it was revealed here today by L. B. Valla, local district freight and passenger agent for the Southern Pacific.

"Fatalities were reduced 30.14 per cent, investigation of records of the railroad company disclosed," the local agent said.

Even in the face of a large increase in the number of registered automobiles in 1924 over 1923, fatalities at grade crossings were reduced 3.99 per cent per 1,000,000 locomotive miles.

"The department of safety of the Southern Pacific attributes this good showing to efforts of the press, automobile associations, public schools and the Southern Pacific's own safety organization, comprising officers and employees, in the matter of educating automobile drivers in safe practices on approaching and crossing railroad tracks."

"Reports received during the year indicate a large increase in the number of drivers stopping before crossing the tracks. This, no doubt, had much to do with making this good record."

"The situation in this respect was also aided by legislation and orders of public service commissions requiring school buses and trucks containing explosives or inflammable liquids to stop before crossing tracks."

WILL MAKE CHEST TESTS AT ANAHEIM

Two diagnostic chest clinics will be held at the city hall, Anaheim, Thursday and Friday, starting each day at 10 a. m., and continuing until 4 p. m. It was announced here today by Mrs. Amelia A. Meagher, public health nurse of the Orange County Tuberculosis association, who will be in charge. She will be assisted by Miss Linda Mitschke, field worker, bureau of tuberculosis, state board of health. The services will be free to all who may wish to present themselves for examination.

"Dr. Edward Hayes, prominent tuberculosis specialist of Los Angeles, will examine the patients and make diagnosis on Thursday," said Mrs. Meagher. "Dr. Hayes has had a wide experience in tuberculosis work, having spent considerable time at Saranac Lake, where the first tuberculosis sanatorium was built. The group of physicians who conduct the Monrovia clinic."

"On Friday Dr. Harry Cohn, formerly medical director of Camp Kearny, now established in private practice in Los Angeles, will be the clinician. With the aid of the Orange County Tuberculosis association will be financially able to promote these chest clinics as indicated. Citizens can operate by spreading the news of these clinics to those who may not read of them and who need to come for examination and advice."

"We are especially anxious to have all public health nurses, educators, and interested citizens bring in the seriously malnourished child, who may wish to come into the children's open for examination now, it will give adequate time to have physical mistakes corrected, thereby giving the child a readiness for gaining upon entering camp."

The measure is reported to have the whole-hearted support of the Protestant denominations as well as by Catholics, Jews, Christian Scientists and Latter Day Saints. It is one of the main subjects under discussion at the thirteenth annual convention of the Episcopal diocese of Los Angeles, now being held in that city.

Prizes to Be Awarded In Bicycle Pageant Here On Saturday

A big "Safety First" bicycle parade, the biggest event of its kind ever held in or around Santa Ana, is scheduled for Saturday morning. Local bicycle dealers in conjunction with the Cycle Trades of America, will stage the demonstration. Fred St. Onge, known the world over as an expert cyclist is to direct the affair and will lead the pageant.

The parade will start from St. Ann's Inn on Broadway at 11:00 a. m. and will wind its way via principal thoroughfares to Poly High school where St. Onge will deliver a talk along "Safety First" lines.

Keen enthusiasm is being displayed by the local riders and interest is becoming greater each day. It is expected many will be in the lineup when the starting whistle blows. Among the leading bicycle dealers co-operating in promoting the "Safety First" demonstration are: H. W. Myrick, Henry's Cycle Co., Fix It Shop and O. A. Leiby of Tustin Cyclery.

"We want the participants, and particularly the parents of the youngsters, to understand that this bicycle parade is in no way a racing event," says St. Onge. "It is simply to stimulate interest in the healthful sport of cycling, foster the development of good citizenship, and to create a sense of justice that the bicycle rider rightfully deserves."

All those having bicycles regardless of age and whether or not the machines are ancient in style, are urged to bring them out and take part in the affair. Thirty-five prizes will be awarded to riders of uniform, and to the school with the greatest number.

The bicycle is becoming more and more in evidence every day as a part of modern life, and many present riders do not know that it represents more than a century of development. The first bicycle ever made, a clumsy and awkward affair called the "boneshaker," is now said to be in the Municipal Museum, Vienna. It is about 117 years old, and the rider had to straddle it and work his legs. It was similar to the kiddie-cars of today.

In the parade Saturday it will not be necessary to register and there is no entry fee. All you need is to have a bicycle and the inclination to ride it and try for a prize. A book on Safety Cycling will be given to every rider in the parade.

DISCUSS RELIGION BILL ON SCHOOLS

Attracting more than ordinary attention among local church people and made the subject of close study in educational centers, is a bill introduced in the state legislature by Assemblyman Miller, providing that time be granted pupils from public school work to receive instruction in religion.

A copy of the bill, No. 128, received today by City Superintendent of Schools J. A. Cranston reads:

"An act to amend the constitution of this state, to enforce the educational rights of children and providing penalties for the violation of this act, approved March 24, 1903, as amended, to be numbered 1-4, and to read as follows:

"Section 1-4. The board of education of any city, or city or county, or the board of trustees of any school district shall, upon the written request of parents or guardian, excuse his or her child for 60 to 180 minutes in any week to permit such child to attend a week-day school giving instruction in religion. Such child may be excused any hour of the day designated by the said school authorities, provided that such child so excused shall be held accountable for all work prescribed for his class."

The measure is reported to have the whole-hearted support of the Protestant denominations as well as by Catholics, Jews, Christian Scientists and Latter Day Saints. It is one of the main subjects under discussion at the thirteenth annual convention of the Episcopal diocese of Los Angeles, now being held in that city.

Local Musicians Are Featured At Rotary Meet

A musical program by Santa Ana talent featured the meeting of the Rotary club yesterday at St. Ann's Inn. Fred C. Rowland was chairman and arranged the program.

Musicians who are always popular with Santa Ana audiences offered the numbers and all were greeted with appreciative applause. The entertainment included vocal selections by Munroe Sharpless, trombone numbers by D. C. Cianfoni, piano monologue by Miss Madoline Moase, vocal duet by Miss Holly Lash and Mrs. Cecil Willits, accompanied on the piano by Miss Ruth Armstrong, Miss Lash and Mrs. Willits responding to an encore with presentation of a musical comedy skit.

'FREE LANCES' ADD ZEST IN STUDENT VOTE

With nomination completed at a special student body assembly held yesterday at the Santa Ana Polytechnic high school, the political campaigns are entering the last lap in the election of student officers who are to be in office during the second semester.

Besides the regular liberal and independent party tickets "free lance" candidates have entered the race, complicating the situation. Because of the interest aroused among the students, the voting promises to be the hottest of recent years.

Posters, campaign speeches, and just silent, watchful waiting are the methods being followed by the political camps. It is probable that the election will be conducted Friday of this week.

4 For President

Four students are up for the presidency. In the nominations made at the assembly Victor Walker, Herbert Meisinger, Arnold Norton, and Louis Napier were named. Walker is supported by the independents and the other two candidates have entered the race with no party affiliations.

Norton is the captain of the basketball squad and during the football season he starred in the backfield of the high school gridmen. Napier was formerly a leader in the liberal organization but he has deserted the party fold in favor of his own prospects.

Strong competition is being experienced for the other offices. For the vice-presidency Raymond Dawson, Charles Grey, Fred Johnston, and Miss Annie Tarver are advanced. The secretaryship is between Miss Adelaide Spencer, Miss Annie Tarver, and Miss Evelyn Yount.

For Boy's Self government committee, Warren Hamilton, Blanchard Beatty, and George Decker are up. Girls' Self government nominees are Miss Thelma Patton, Miss Virginia Thatcher, and Miss Margaret Carothers.

Nominees Rate Highly

All the nominees qualified for office with high citizenship ratings it was revealed by Principal D. K. Hammond in noting interesting sidelights on the elections.

This, Hammond held, indicates the general attitude of the school toward the citizenship plan introduced here last year for the first time.

"The students nominated for offices are the leaders of the school and their example has a strong influence on the general attitude. Nine of the seventeen candidates had perfect one hundred per cent citizenship grading, Hammond declared.

It is not probable that the first voting will decide the election according to general opinion. Since the elected officer must receive the majority of the votes, the first ballots will determine which students are to remain in the final voting.

To insure the election of their candidates both party organizations are advertising their tickets. Both camps are uncertain of the trend, both claiming the students' support, and openly fearing the "free lance" candidates.

At the head of the liberals are Morris Davis and Kinsley Hancock. The independent leaders are Gardner Waters and Donald Hillman.

Funeral Service Held for S. A. Man

The impressive funeral service of the Episcopal church was held yesterday afternoon at Smith and Tutill's chapel for Don L. Miniken, who passed away at his home, 1714 North Broadway, last Saturday. The rector of the Church of the Messiah, the Rev. W. L. H. Benton, officiated at the last sad rites.

Comforting Scriptural passages and prayers were read, and Maurice Phillips sang the beautiful hymns, "Jesus, Savior, Pilot Me" and "Prayer Perfect," accompanied on the organ by Harry Garstang.

The casket was surrounded by many beautiful floral emblems, tokens of the respect and esteem in which the deceased and his mother, Mrs. Sarah L. Miniken, are held in the community.

The Elks, of which Mr. Miniken was a member, attended in a body, and their ritualistic service was said at the grave in Fairhaven cemetery.

GOOD ENGLISH IS INADEQUATE SOMETIMES TO CONVEY IDEAS

Mother Tongue Lacking In 'Punch,' Local College, School Teachers Admit

'AIN'T' UNDER FIRE IN LOCAL WORD COMBAT

Purists Concede That Custom May Cause Slang to Become Acceptable

Though claimed to be the most expressive language in the world, the English mother tongue is sadly lacking and just a little inadequate at times, teachers of English at the Santa Ana high school and junior college themselves declare when "ain't" is brought under fire.

They say that "Ain't" is impossible, "Aren't" is bad form, and "Am I not" is slightly stilted though it is preferable.

And that leaves nothing else to use. Language is ever changing and they declare that it is probable usage will in time correct the deficiency. Until the grammarians incorporate new changes in the books, any original expressions by the students will be discredited, the teachers asserted.

Expressions of opinion were given by Miss Levenia Scott and Miss Elizabeth Wyant, of the high school English teaching staff and by Mrs. Robert Northcross of the junior college.

A unanimity of protest was voiced against "ain't" over being recognized in company with good English words. Though admitted to be prevalent in the high school students' vocabulary, it was said that "ain't" remained behind when the student graduated at college.

"Junior college students most certainly do not use 'ain't' asserted Mrs. Northcross. 'Aren't' may sometimes be found but in most instances it is an assumed expression and not at all natural."

"Language adaptations may eventually incorporate 'Aren't' into good usage, says Miss Scott. 'Already 'Aren't' is growing in favor in some sections of the country. Some of the present day writers are using it. Colloquial expressions become accepted when they can no longer be ignored in language. I don't think that 'Ain't' will ever be recognized but it is possible that 'Aren't' may be acknowledged."

Miss Wyant declared that Webster was the authority and she preferred his verdict. "Ain't" has been popular especially among high school students. The changes in Webster are brought about only after generations of usage. I'll stay with Webster in the support of 'Am I not' until change in language changes Webster," she added.

URGES CAUTION IN CARING FOR CITRUS TREES

Treatment of Groves at Present Time Declared of Great Importance

By H. E. WAHLBERG
County Agricultural Agent

The treatment of citrus trees at the present time, following the cold period, is very important in relation to the future welfare of the tree. The result of the several cold spells and dry winds has brought about a greater or less defoliation of the trees, which indirectly has cut down the moisture and fertilizer requirements of the tree.

In other words, the upper part of the trees has reduced its function from 25 to 50 per cent and in some cases more, while the root systems in most of the groves continue 100 per cent efficient. This condition means that the tree is not in a position to take up more food and moisture than the upper structure of the trees can accommodate just now.

Fertilization Experience through previous cold spells has definitely shown that the citrus trees should be given some time for readjustment before excessive stimulation is given to recuperate the tree. The practice of heavy fertilization at this time, immediately following a cold period, has been found detrimental rather than favorable to conservative tree recuperation. It has been found better practice to hold off fertilization of the young trees, particularly one that has suffered from frost injury, until later in the season, when the tree has shown definite signs of new growth. It can be readily seen that the 100 per cent root system will take care of the needs of a tree that has been reduced from 25 to 50 per cent in leaf and twig structure.

Pruning Premature pruning is also another practice which has been found detrimental, particularly from an economic standpoint. Pruning of frosted or wind injured growth should be postponed two to four months, or until that time when the injury had been definitely defined. Cutting growth time cannot be done satisfactorily as it is almost impossible to know how far back to cut. It is true that delay in pruning will permit of an unfavorable appearance in the grove for the time being, but this is only temporary and is amply justified when the permanent good of the tree is taken into consideration.

The question of irrigation is a common one at the present time. It is advisable to put water on groves that have suffered from either wind or cold if examination with the soil auger shows that the ground has been dried out since the last irrigation. If on the other hand, soil examination shows an ample amount of moisture, it would be a mistake to force more water on a tree that is already provided with all the moisture that it could normally take up. As a matter of fact, in the average grove where wind and cold have reduced the amount of foliage on the tree, the moisture requirements of that tree is considerably less than under normal conditions. If there is optimum moisture in the soil, the tree will take up as much moisture as it needs. It cannot take up excessive moisture that might be supplied it. Fruit that has been slightly touched with the cold will have a chance to recuperate. Sufficient moisture in the soil is necessary to bring this amount. It should be remembered, however, that excessive moisture will not promote recovery. If the orchard shows ideal moisture conditions, further irrigation would hamper rather than assist recovery. It should be borne in mind that optimum moisture should be maintained in the orchard at all times of the year. There is greater danger of over-irrigation in the spring and early summer than in any other time of the year.

GROWERS INSPECT OVERHEAD SYSTEM

One hundred and seventy-five citrus growers of Orange, Los Angeles, San Diego, Riverside and Ventura counties inspected various overhead systems on an all day trip which started at the V. M. Treslance place near La Habra yesterday.

H. E. Wahlberg, county agricultural agent, gave a brief talk on the advantages of the overhead system. At the F. E. Pond farm, also at La Habra, the next place visited, installation work was observed. Following a visit to the Murphy ranch at East Whittier, the party stopped for lunch at La Manda Park.

At the La Manda Park Packing house, the visitors were shown fruit which had been irrigated by the overhead system. According to H. Weber, manager of the plant, this fruit is greatly superior to fruit irrigated in the usual way.

Harold Wadsworth, of the division of irrigation of the University of California, gave a talk in which he stated that the overhead spray system cannot be relied upon for protection from frost. Wadsworth is now making a survey of irrigation systems. His report will soon be available to growers here.

Among those on the trip was A. C. Hardison, Ventura county, president of the California Federation of Farm Bureaus.

Farm Bureau Has Busy Month Ahead

February will be a busy month for the farm bureau, according to the announcement made today by officials of the organization. Twenty-eight meetings are scheduled for the month and in addition to these it is expected that incidental meetings will be arranged during the month. At 11 of the meetings arrangements will be made for a program of work for the various centers.

February being the legislative recess, many of the matters pending in the legislature will be discussed. At least one of the meetings scheduled will be given over wholly to this important discussion.

CENTER CHIEFS TO GATHER IN S. A. SATURDAY

The presidents and secretaries of the 15 farm centers in the county will convene Saturday, January 31. It was announced today. The meeting will be held at the farm bureau office, Santa Ana, for the purpose of discussing organization matters.

Officials of the bureau have prepared a course of instruction on the business of conducting meetings and the convention will solve into a "president's school." This is the first meeting of this nature ever held in the state and it is also the first time the presidents of the farm centers have met together.

Common parliamentary practice will be taught at the session. Such topics as appointing a committee and getting it to work, building an interesting program and requirements of a desirable meeting place will be discussed by leaders who have had a great deal of experience along these lines.

POULTRYMEN TO FIGHT THIEVES

Ways and means of curbing chicken stealing were discussed at the meeting of the poultry department of the farm bureau last night. Sheriff Sam Jernigan, who was present at the meeting, was asked for suggestions.

E. H. Koenig, chairman of the committee appointed to raise $1000 to be posted as a reward for the arrest and conviction of chicken thieves, reported that $285 had been secured to date.

W. M. Cory, assistant farm advisor, a member of the identification committee, reported that progress is being made in securing some method of marking or identifying chickens.

F. P. Williams, Los Angeles, manager of the Southern California Poultry Producers' association, and J. M. Davidson, also of Los Angeles, also of the Poultrymen's Co-Operative Milling association, gave talks.

BASSE IS ELECTED CENTER PRESIDENT

F. D. Basse is the new president of the Westminster Farm center, being elected at the joint meeting of the center and the dairy department of the farm bureau in the I. O. O. F. building at Westminster yesterday.

Robert Hazard was elected vice-president of the center and a director of the bureau, and Albert Moog was elected secretary and treasurer of the center. Basse succeeds Dr. Richard Foster.

Speakers at the gathering were T. H. Bries, Los Angeles, secretary-manager of the Southern California Milk Producers' association, and W. M. Cory, assistant farm advisor.

COUNTY LEADS ENTIRE STATE IN BUTTERFAT

Cowtesting Association Has High Average For Past Two Months

BY W. M. CORY
The milk scales and Babcock butterfat test proclaim cows of the local cowtesting association to have the highest average butterfat production during the past two months of any such association in the state. The average butterfat production per cow was 35.6 pounds for December, which is an average of 1.18 pounds of butterfat per day. Los Angeles county was the closest competitor with an average of 34.8 pounds.

December's average production was 6 pounds higher than that of the previous month, when the closest competitor was Marten and Sonoma association, with an average of 33.2 pounds.

Each cow in a herd might be termed a complete manufacturing unit of a dairy, some of which are producing profitably, considering labor and feed, and others are maintained at a loss. It is the pleasant duty of M. Mellinger, who is employed by the dairy department of the farm bureau, to check up on the milk and butterfat production of each individual cow once a month to determine whether she is keeping in good standing and justifying her continuance in the herd. Pleasant because it means better returns to the dairyman if the boarders are disposed of.

According to a dairy cost of production survey made by the farm management division of the University of California, it costs in the neighborhood of $315 a year to keep a cow. Allowing credits of a calf and manure, which approximate $20, this reduces the cost to $295. The dairyman would have to secure, on average, production of 347 pounds of butterfat with butterfat at its present basis of 85 cents per pound, in order to get a return of six per cent on his investment, which was the interest charge allowed in making this survey.

When we consider that the average yearly dairy cows in the United States was 170 pounds and that of California 184 pounds, we can easily see the need of an efficiency expert of our dairies.

Organized testing by county for the past four years has shown records obtainable for the past two years. These showed an average yearly production of 361 pounds of butterfat.

The keeping of individual milk and butterfat production records are not only valuable for the reasons mentioned, but also to serve as a guide in the selection of calves to maintain the herd.

CELERY BLANCHED IN 6 TO 10 DAYS

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 28.—A new method for blanching celery "while you wait," that is, in from six to ten days, as compared with present day methods which takes from boarding up, which takes from three to six weeks, has been discovered by Dr. R. B. Harvey and L. O. Reginald, plant physiologists of the University of Minnesota.

There is a possibility that by the new system celery can be blanched sufficiently for the trade while it is in transit in tight cars.

Dark cloudy weather and low temperatures last summer held back the celery crop, in some instances frost appearing before the natural time for blanching had arrived. It occurred to Dr. Harvey that some method whereby this green celery could be blanched quickly would be of commercial advantage.

Ethylene gas has been used for several years in causing oranges and lemons to turn yellow. Dr. Harvey believed it would do as much for celery and entered upon a series of experiments.

"On treating celery placed in containers with ethylene gas the leaves and stalks lose their green color and become a rich golden yellow with the exact appearance of celery which has been very carefully and fully blanched by hilling or in storage," says Dr. Harvey. "The stalks which have been treated with ethylene seem more brittle, less stringy and sweeter than celery which has not been treated."

"The gas has no bleaching action and is not poisonous. It seems merely to hasten the natural blanching process which would occur if the plants were hilled up or placed in storage in darkness."

Dr. Harvey adds that the expense for gas is trifling—not to exceed 50 cents for an entire carload of celery. As the treatment is still in the experimental stage, he warns that it should not be attempted by celery growers without the aid of the experiment station.

SPECIALIST IN ECONOMICS TO SPEAK TONIGHT

Just now the subject of agricultural economics is holding the center of the area in the agricultural world. Growers representing the various crops are particularly interested in the present trend of agricultural prices.

The outlook, judging from the general status of business throughout the nation, is somewhat favorable, although there are many factors from a national and world standpoint that enter into the fluctuations of agricultural prices, according to the county agricultural agent.

L. W. Fluharty, specialist in agricultural economics, University of California, has been secured by the agricultural extension service in Orange county to discuss this important question to the growers of Orange county. A special meeting has been called under the auspices of the Anaheim farm center for tonight at 7:30 p. m. at the Anaheim High School. Fluharty will present facts and figures illustrated by charts, analyzing the present situation and tendencies for further price developments.

A special invitation is extended to all growers and packing house officials.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey L. Stuckley of Long Beach were Sunday afternoon callers at the S. E. Talbert and E. D. Helm homes. Mrs. Stuckley will be remembered by many here as Miss Anna Andrews, sister of the Rev. Alva Andrews, at whose home she was a frequent visitor while he was a resident of Talbert.

Mrs. Lena McGuigey and daughter of Santa Ana were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Talbert. Mrs. McGuigey is a cousin of Mrs. Talbert. The family recently returned from Arizona.

Fields Heaston, brother of Mrs. George Bushard, and Mrs. A. Martel, who has been in serious condition from blood poisoning, is continuing to improve, but is still in the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Greenberry Presson and family moved to Orange this week.

The smallpox epidemic which has caused thousands to be quarantined for several weeks has abated and the last of the quarantine signs has been removed by the health officer. Five families were under quarantine, but none of the patients was reported as seriously ill.

Frank Harper is building an addition to his home to the extent of a bedroom, bathroom and large screen porch.

Mrs. Will Carter, son Earl Carter, and baby, of Long Beach and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Rogers and daughters, Rose and Dorothy, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Talbert Monday.

CITRUS MEN TO VISIT STATION ON JANUARY 30

Present indications point to a large delegation of citrus growers from Orange county on the annual excursion Friday to the experiment station at Riverside. The agricultural extension service and the farm bureau are sponsoring the trip. It is expected that the delegation will be as large as last year, at which time over 150 growers joined the procession.

Farm Advisor Wahlberg urges the growers to fill their cars with neighbor passengers so as to cut down the expense of the trip and number of cars required to conduct the passengers. For the benefit of growers in the northern part of the county, plans have been rearranged so that the excursion will start at two points, one at the Placentia railroad depot at 8:30 a. m., and the other at Olive at 8:30 a. m. The two groups will meet at 8:45 a. m. near the York Linda bridge where the road joins the Santa Ana canyon road.

Citrus fertilizer, pruning and root stock plots will be visited and explained by the staff members in charge of same. The various laboratories at the experiment station where disease and insect problems are worked out will also be seen by those participating in the annual excursion.

A number of farm centers are taking active interest in this excursion and will send special delegations to report back to the various farm centers.

Director J. T. Barrett extends greetings to all growers in the county stating that the experiment station will be turned over to the growers all day Friday for their enlightenment and enjoyment.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 28.—An unidentified victim of "cross-word puzzle-itis" was in the general hospital here today, unable to speak or recall his name.

The man was found sitting on a downtown curb. In his pocket was a dictionary, a book of synonyms and several cross-word puzzles, some solved and others partly so.

"An advanced case of amnesia brought on by excessive addiction to cross-word puzzles," was the physician's diagnosis.

EVENING SALUTATION

We should tell ourselves once for all that it is the first duty of the soul to become happy, complete, independent, and great as lies in its power. —Maurice Materlinck.

OVERLOOKING AN OPPORTUNITY

The northern half of the county—the whole county, in fact—is overlooking an opportunity. It is not often that the northern half of the county does that. This oversight, therefore, is worth commenting upon for that reason if for no other.

On a hill at Yorba stands the fast fading walls of the old Bernardo Yorba ranch home, built in the late '30's, once the most nearly perfect of the ranch homes of the grandes of old Spanish California. About it clings tradition and romance.

The property is now owned by Samuel Kraemer, well known Placentia resident. He has expressed himself as willing to co-operate in re-building of the old adobe and in turning it over to the county as a park.

Therein lies the possibility of a county park with the Yorba ranchhouse as one of its attractions, as its principal attraction. The county could acquire by purchase sufficient acreage to make the proposal worth while even beyond the mere matter of acquiring the ground upon which the above ruins stand. Mr. Kraemer was willing at one time, so we understand, to deed to the county two or three acres, including the ruins. The county ought to have a park there of thirty or forty acres, or more.

SCARCER BOOZE

It is well known that a lot of youths are being ruined today by bootleg booze. It is well known, too, that a lot of parents are going to the devil and wrecking their children's life chances by over-indulgence in contraband drink.

It is not so well known that Chicago, which had 5,238 cases of delinquent and neglected children in 1919, had only 3,350 last year, with more population and harder times; that New York had 3,000 fewer delinquents and neglected children in this year of federal prohibition than in the last year of legal liquor traffic; and that Massachusetts reports, since the dry amendment went into effect, a decrease of 30 per cent in child crime and vice and a decrease of 50 per cent in the prison population.

"Give probation and charity and social effort all the credit you like," remarks Collier's Weekly, "but had scarce booze nothing to do with it?"

BABIES AND WAR

It is babies that make war, says Professor Thompson of Miami University. That is, too many babies in a country drive that country into war by increasing the "differential pressure of population."

Germany, starting a World war to gain a "place in the sun" for her surplus population, is a good case in point. Italian imperialism today is from the same cause; stop Italian emigration, and Italy would fight for more room. Japan's troubles, and the fears that Japan inspires in other countries, some mainly from her high birth rate and limited territory and resources. Nations, like families, tend to have fewer children as they advance in civilization and culture. But there are other causes to be dealt with. There will be wars as long as human nature remains combative and trusts to force.

THE STATE IS AWAKENING

All California is awakening to the need of water conservation. All California is realizing that California's future development is to be limited by the water supply.

It behooves every section that needs water to busy itself in seeing to it that some other section does not take away from it water that belongs to it. In that regard, we might at this time say that it is our opinion that within five years some big things will develop along the Santa Ana river determining who shall own the surplus flood waters of that stream. Whether we are to sit by and see those rights go elsewhere depends on our own activity.

Delays are dangerous. The delays secured at Washington by Harry Chandler, assisted by Congressman Fredericks and others, in getting quick action on the Colorado river is an instance in point. Each year that the United States delays action on that great project the larger will be the area under cultivation on Chandler's 800,000 acres south of the Mexican border. Once the water becomes attached to the land by actual usage on the land, the United States will have to apportion that much to the land. If Chandler can secure a year's delay, during that year he will bring 40,000 or 50,000 acres more of his Mexican lands under irrigation. His main fight is for delay. And with this obviously true, the authorities at Washington allow delays to occur.

What irrigation means to California is indicated in a bill that has just been filed at Sacramento. Concerning the measure, the San Francisco Chronicle has the following:

Senator Creighton of Bakersfield has introduced a bill appropriating $500,000 for a detailed survey looking to the construction of a dam, or dams, for the impounding of flood waters on every stream flowing from the Sierra to the interior valleys. This proposal follows a similar appropriation four years ago and some substantial amount expended since that time, including voluminous detailed reports. It is not probable that the additional half million will complete the work. Doubtless the recent dry seasons have added impetus to the movement.

There is now, we believe, universal agreement in this state that not a drop of water which falls on the state, and which by any possibility can be put to beneficial use of any kind, should be allowed to run to the sea without rendering that service.

The real question is how rapidly this work shall be done, where the money is to come from, and to what extent the state shall oversee and control the work and contribute to it. The past and proposed expenditures are state contributions to the entire problem. That the state shall never engage in any such drastic control, including such interference with vested rights and individual initiative as was proposed by the late unlamented water and power bill, is settled. The people will not have it. That does not mean that there shall be no co-operation.

The state can afford to, and should, make contributions from time to time. The best rule for regulating state expenditures of this kind is the determination by expert authority that within some reasonable time the increased taxable values resulting will more than pay interest and amortization on and of the state's investment. No expenditure which will not do that is justified as a financial measure. It is charity, or graft, or something. It is not business.

While one may not agree with all that the Chronicle has to say on the subject, the reader cannot fail to recognize the fact that water conservation is one of California's biggest concerns. To neglect it will be costly. Any community that delays action and any water company that fails to act quickly may rue the day they remained asleep.

Dividing On Sex Lines

Stockton Independent.

Senator E. S. Hurley of Oakland has introduced a bill providing that half the membership of the state central committee, half the presidential electors, and, if legally possible, half the members of the county central committees in this state be composed of women.

Discussing the measure, the senator says its purpose is to arouse more interest in politics among women.

We have given women the right to vote, and now I propose that we allow them to carry a part of the responsibility of politics. As things stand at present, women generally do not understand politics. They are easy prey for any demagogue that comes along.

If women are given an opportunity to take an active part in politics they will soon come to understand it as a man does at the present time.

All who favor woman suffrage will approve Mr. Hurley's very commendable desire to awaken women to their political responsibilities. But many, and among them the most ardent champions of woman suffrage, will oppose any plan whereby sex will be injected into political representation. The whole campaign of woman suffrage was based on the principle that sex discrimination in voting and politics was manifestly unfair and unjust and that women were won on that sound and logical argument. Now to reinject sex discrimination in political recognition to favor women is simply re-establishing the same unjust principle with women the beneficiaries instead of men.

Mr. Hurley's measure might very easily work injustice to both men and women. It might very easily happen that in one campaign more men would be available as members of the central committee than women, while in the next campaign the case might be exactly reversed and more women would be available. Yet under the proposed measure, equal numbers of men and women must serve without respect to desire, ability, to say nothing of the good of the party or its success.

In our opinion women cannot with success be "legislated" into recognition in political life. Any real advance will be made through her willingness and ability to assume the responsibilities of political leadership and to qualify herself to win her own place in the realm of political and governmental affairs.

Bring Phoenix Nearer

Long Beach Press-Telegram.

A $300,000 bridge across the Colorado river near Blythe would cut 100 miles from the distance between Phoenix and the coast at this point. San Diego now is getting the bulk of this automobile travel from Arizona by reason of the fact that there is a bridge at Yuma, while at Blythe it is necessary to cross the river on a ferry. Ten years ago the Blythe route was the more popular, while now the Yuma road gets more than three cars to the one which takes the Ehrenberg ferry on the way to California.

At the present time the proposal is to build a toll bridge near Blythe. No other means of financing seem to be at hand; and while there is a deep-seated objection to paying for the privilege of crossing a bridge or of using a road, as a matter of fact Californians who drive or ride on the public highways in these days pay toll every time they visit a filling station. The money goes for the upkeep and widening and any other improvement of roads. Eventually, no doubt, the toll provision would be abolished as the volume of traffic justifies the state or the federal government in taking over the structure. Even under the toll plan the cost of crossing the river on the bridge would be much less than the ferry charges which now obtain.

As a matter of neighborly interest and good business, Los Angeles county and its nearby neighbors should back whatever may be determined to be the best plan for a crossing of the Colorado river on a direct road to Phoenix.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M. D.

GOING BACK HUNDREDS OF YEARS

Sometimes when you have read of the physicians of hundreds of years ago, and that they gave as medicines parts of the organs of animals, you have likely smiled to yourself. The liver, kidneys, brain, lung, and the other tissues, were powdered up, and given to strengthen the organs in human beings.

And yet here we are in this twentieth century, in the light of all the knowledge now possessed by physicians, doing pretty much the same thing. There are all kinds of products now on the market, which have been manufactured from the spleen, bone marrow, liver, and other parts of animals. The extracts secured from some of the organs or glands in animals, have been of great service to humanity. The extract from the little organ resting on the base of the skull, the pituitary gland, has been of use where growth and development were slow.

The extract from the adrenal glands, situated on top of each kidney, has been used to control bleeding, relieve asthma, and so forth. The extract from the pancreas as you know, now relieves the dreadful symptoms of diabetes. And the extract from the thyroid gland, situated in front of the neck, has been the subject of perhaps more experiments than any of the others. The iodine found therein has been investigated thoroughly. The giving of a small quantity of iodine, twice a year, to children in "goitrous" districts, has been of great assistance, in reducing the number of cases of goiter in these districts.

Now what about all this? Can it be said that the powdered extract from any organ in an animal, can be made to help the corresponding organ in a human being? No, not yet at least, because the experiments have been successful so far with but a few organs. However, this work is still in its infancy, and it may not be long before it is better understood, and its real value known. However this whole idea is really a case of going back to nature for help, isn't it?

Three Qualities for Effective Citizenship

Sacramento Bee

Recently there was dedicated on the battlefield of San Juan, Cuba, a monument to Colonel Theodore Roosevelt. It is a simple bronze pedestal, expressive of the gratitude the Cubans feel toward that great American, not only for the services he rendered in their war for freedom, but also for his steady and friendly influence in Cuban affairs while President of the United States.

At the dedication ceremonies these words of Roosevelt were read:

Honesty first; but honesty is not enough. Courage; but courage is not enough. If a man is a natural born fool, you can't do anything with him. The effective citizen must have three qualities—honesty, courage and common sense.

Roosevelt said many true and vigorous things in his long career of public service; but few more worth while remembering than those words.

And he exemplified them in his own career.

Honesty and courage were his pre-eminently; and to these he surely added that measure of common sense which gave balance to his policies and his character.

Worth While Verse

O CALIFORNIA

(Tune: When Johnny Comes Marching)

We've got the finest place in the land, Hurrah! Hurrah!
We'll back her up with a loyal stand, Hurrah! Hurrah!
To California we'll lift the cup.
The Lions Club will back her up!
O California! ain't she a wonderful state? YES!

She's got the finest climate on earth, Hurrah! Hurrah!
It's more than a billion dollars' worth, Hurrah! Hurrah!
Away up north you get wet to the skin,
And the icicles hang on the farmer's chin,
But California! ain't she a wonderful state? YES!

She's got the finest climate on earth, Hurrah! Hurrah!
Her glories are ev'rywhere unfurled, Hurrah! Hurrah!
Away back East they freeze in the mud,
And when they go out they get stuck in the mud,
But California! ain't she a wonderful state? YES!

Tom Sims Says

A man usually doubts others because he doubts himself. If you had nothing to worry about you would worry about that. The secret of happiness is in getting what you want instead of what you want others to think you want.

Trying to enjoy money you haven't earned is about like sitting down to a big meal with no appetite.

A man who works to forget is better off than one who forgets to work.

Keep your eyes directly on your goal and you miss a lot of scenery.

A cynic is a man who blames a dead tree because it fails to become green in the spring.

Suprise

WHEN you come to the end of a tedious day and your work's tucked away for the night, on the homeward path you will wend your way while you're nursing an appetite. At the moment you just placed a bit like all business men will do. It isn't the lunch that makes a hit, as a rule, with me or you. We're kinda kind when the day's at end. There's a treat in store that's rare. We always know we can sure depend on the food that's waiting there.

It's home that calls, through our appetite. And it's hunger that makes us smile. It's fun to guess what we'll get at night in the reg'lar home-cooked style. The table's set and we blink our eyes. Then we eat, as all men should. Each day we meet with a new surprise, and it always tastes dern good.

Your Income Tax

A series of thirty articles, based on changes in tax legislation in the Revenue Act of 1924, has been prepared by the Bureau of Internal Revenue. These articles are appearing under the above heading, in the order they are issued.

No. 16 shall be the cost of such property with certain exceptions.

The first is that if the property should have been included in the taxpayer's last inventory, the basis shall be the last inventory value thereof. For example, if a merchant in 1923 bought a certain article, and it was not sold by him prior to December 31, 1923, but was included in his inventory as of that date, the taxable gain or deductible loss would be the difference between the selling price and the amount at which the article was carried in the inventory.

If the property was acquired by gift after December 31, 1920, the basis shall be the same as it would be in the hands of the donor or last preceding owner by whom it was not acquired by gift. For example, a woman in 1921 bought stock in a corporation at $100 a share, kept it until January, 1922, when it was worth $120 and then gave it to her son who in 1923 transferred it to his wife, the stock then being worth $150 a share. If in 1924 the wife sold the stock for $200 a share, her taxable profit is not $50 but $100 a share, the gain over the cost to the last preceding owner who did not acquire the stock by gift.

In computing the gain or loss from the sale or other disposition of property acquired by gift or transfer in trust on or before December 31, 1920, or by bequest, devise, or inheritance, the basis shall be the fair market price or value of such property at the time of acquisition. For example, a taxpayer received in 1919 a gift of real estate having a fair market value of $100 a share, which he sold in 1924 for $150,000. The original cost to the donor in 1916 was $12,000. The taxable gain, however, is $5,000.

Losses connected with transactions entered into for profit, not connected with the taxpayer's trade or business must conform closely to the wording of the statute to be allowed. For example, a lawyer may purchase an apartment with the object of deriving income from the rental. A physician buys shares of stock on which he hopes to make a profit. Both sustain losses upon a subsequent sale which are deductible. But if either should sell his residence, which at the time of purchase was bought without the intention of resale, the loss, if any, is not deductible, because it was not a transaction entered into for profit. Similarly, a loss connected with the sale of an automobile bought for pleasure or convenience of the taxpayer can not be deducted.

No. 17 The revenue act of 1924 provides that the basis for determining taxable gain or deductible loss from the sale or other disposition of property acquired after February 28, 1925—the first income tax law became effective March 1, 1913—

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

NO. 15—THE PURPLE BEECH TREE

"Do you know any more wishes?" asked the Fairy Queen.

"Yes," said Nick. "I heard a purple beech tree say that it was tired of being just a tree. It saw a picture in a book once and ever since it has been wanting to be a dragon."

"A dragon?" exclaimed the Fairy Queen. "Of all things—for a tree to wish to be a dragon!"

"It did though," said Nancy. "It told the dicker bird and the dicker bird told us."

"All right," said the Fairy Queen. "Come on, Two Spot, take us to the purple beech."

"I would far rather that the wizard attended to this," said the Fairy Queen. "I don't like dragons. But anyway, we'll see how it goes."

Soon they came to the purple beech.

A beauty it was, all spread out like a gay bouquet—its leaves a dark purple—its trunk and branches a lovely mouse-gray.

"Is it true that you wish to be a dragon?" asked the Fairy Queen.

"But why a dragon?" asked the Fairy Queen. "Why not a nice bossy cow or a cute little pig or something like that?"

"Humph! What I want is adventure," said the tree.

"I heard of a bossy cow and a little pig having adventures," said the Fairy Queen.

"I did," said Nick. "Pigs have more adventures than billy goats. Didn't you ever hear of—"

"Will you please be quiet!" said the tree. "Look at that!"

And it waved its arms toward a picture book. Sure enough—there
